

A picture of my father and his field.
He gave his life to the wheat, spending barely any time with us,
I preferred it that way.

